Department of
Geography, Aliah
University, Kolkata, India

About Webinar: Geography as a field of science is devoted to research of the lands, the physical-cultural features, the inhabitants and the phenomena of the earth in spatial and temporal dimensions. The continuous evolution of the Remote Sensing (RS) and Geographical Information System (GIS) has made a significant contribution to the mainstream geographic research and applications. The combination of spatial statistics, spatial analysis, digital images of the physical and cultural world with GIScience, has progressed and advanced the geographical research to solve the real life problems of human beings. Subsequently, the geography as a discipline is improving conceptually and methodologically, and becoming potential to meet the human needs. The valuable contribution of geographical research and important narrative is trying to make the geography's intellectual territory wider and attractive to other disciplines.
