Celebration of Students' Week

INSTRUCTIONS

During the first week of January, the Electrical Engineering Department of Aliah University hosted its very first Students' Week celebration. Because the epidemic has been ongoing for an extended period of time, students have been unable to attend classes on the university's campus. In this Covid19 scenario, a large number of students were feeling lonely and unhappy.

In light of these circumstances, the Department of Electrical Engineering decided to organise three activities to commemorate Student's Week: Guardians Meet, Singing Competition, and Recitation Competition.

Due to the fact that the parents are also concerned about their children's future, the department decided to organize a Guardians Meet' in order to have a direct talk with the guardians. The department organised an online meeting on January 5, 2022, at 6 p.m., which took place via online mode.

Students may become bored and their creative minds may become disengaged if they are required to spend the entire school year at home. Keeping this in mind, the department organises two competitions, one for singing and one for recitation, to help students refresh their mental states and become more relaxed before their end-of-semester examinations.

Singing Competition: These two events will take place on the 6th and 7th of January, 2022, starting at 6 p.m. in an online format. Electrical engineering department intimated about the program schedule and the events vide the notice bearing Memo No: AU/EEN/001/22 Dated: 03-JAN-2022 in the departmental website, and departmental notice board. In addition, departmental faculty member Mr. Pallav Dutta developed a poster that was posted on the departmental website with information about the event. All of the sessions were videotaped for future reference.
