ONE-DAY INTERDISCIPLINARY WORKSHOP ON RESEARCH METHODOLOGY AND ACADEMIC WRITING

ORGANISED BY THE DEPARTMENT OF ISLAMIC THEOLOGY
ALIAH UNIVERSITY KOLKATA
5th February 2026

BACKGROUND

In today's interdisciplinary and outcome-oriented academic environment, researchers are required to demonstrate methodological rigor and effective academic writing. However, many faculty members, research scholars, and postgraduate students face challenges in research design, methodological clarity, interdisciplinary integration, and scholarly communication, particularly within the social sciences and humanities.

The One-Day Interdisciplinary Workshop on Research Methodology and Academic Writing aims to strengthen research competencies and academic writing skills through a balanced integration of theory and practice. Aligned with NEP 2020, UGC quality frameworks, and NAAC accreditation parameters, the workshop emphasizes interdisciplinary research, ethical scholarship, and effective dissemination of research outcomes. Special focus is given to integrating Islamic research methodology rooted in the Qur'an–Hadith–Maqāṣid al-Sharī'ah framework with contemporary research approaches in the social sciences and humanities.

OBJECTIVES OF THE WORKSHOP

The specific objectives of the workshop are:

- To introduce participants to the fundamental concepts and approaches in research methodology.
- To promote interdisciplinary perspectives in research within the social sciences, humanities, and allied disciplines.
- To enhance understanding of qualitative, quantitative, and mixed-methods research approaches.
- To develop academic writing skills relevant to research papers, theses, dissertations, and project proposals.
- To familiarize participants with standard referencing techniques and widely used citation styles.
- To promote academic integrity and awareness regarding plagiarism and ethical research practices.
- To provide a platform for scholarly interaction and exchange of ideas among faculty members, researchers, and students.

PROGRAMME STRUCTURE

The workshop will be conducted as a one-day academic programme comprising the following sessions:

- Inaugural Session: The inaugural session will set the academic tone of the programme through welcome remarks and inaugural addresses by the Vice-Chancellor and senior academic authorities.
- Technical Sessions: These sessions will focus on interdisciplinary research methodology, theoretical frameworks, and contemporary trends in research within the social sciences and humanities.
- Lead Lecture: A comprehensive lead lecture will address core research concepts, research design, methodological tools, and the significance of interdisciplinary approaches in contemporary scholarship.
- Academic Writing Session: This session will focus on structuring research papers, theses, and project proposals, including argument development, coherence, and scholarly presentation.
- Interactive Session: An interactive session will engage participants in discussions on improving academic writing skills, effective referencing practices, and strategies to avoid plagiarism. Participants will be encouraged to share experiences and raise discipline-specific concerns.
- Valedictory Session: The valedictory session will summarize the proceedings of the workshop and highlight key learning outcomes.

TARGET PARTICIPANTS

The workshop is intended for:

- Faculty members
- Research scholars
- Postgraduate students
- Interdisciplinary academicians from the humanities, social sciences, and allied disciplines

EXPECTED OUTCOMES

At the conclusion of the workshop, participants are expected to:

- Gain improved clarity in research problem formulation and research design.
- Develop a stronger understanding of interdisciplinary research methodologies.
- Enhance their academic writing skills for scholarly publications and academic submissions.
- Acquire better knowledge of referencing styles and ethical research practices.
- Engage in meaningful scholarly interaction and foster interdisciplinary academic collaboration.

CONCLUSION

The One-Day Interdisciplinary Workshop on Research Methodology and Academic Writing is a focused academic initiative aimed at enhancing research quality and scholarly communication within the university. By integrating methodological training, academic writing skills, and interdisciplinary engagement, the workshop seeks to contribute meaningfully to strengthening academic standards and promoting a robust and ethically grounded research culture.
