The Human Welfare Foundation (HWF) is a well-known non-governmental organization in India that runs humanitarian and development activities to battle poverty and alleviate people's suffering. They accomplish this by cooperating with disadvantaged communities, regardless of their religion, caste, gender, or political opinions. Our purpose is to enable the poor and the needy to live self-sufficient and sustainable lifestyles in secure and supportive environments. HWF's work is informed and led by basic values such as accountability, humanity, neutrality, impartiality, inclusion, integrity, and cooperation.

Centre for Training and Academic Guidance (CTAG)

The Centre for Training and Academic Guidance (CTAG) is a significant initiative by the Human Welfare Foundation to address the needs of socio-economically backward communities especially in North India. This organization focuses on expanding and coordinating career awareness activities as an integral part of education programs, aimed at promoting the welfare and strengthening of underprivileged sections of society.

CTAG plays a crucial role in providing career counselling and guidance to students and young individuals from socioeconomically disadvantaged backgrounds. The primary objective is to empower them with the necessary information and skills required to excel in higher education and employment sectors. By doing so, CTAG seeks to bridge the gap between opportunities and access for these marginalized communities, ensuring they have a fair chance to succeed in their desired fields.

Aims & Objectives

- To Promote the National Level Career Guidance System.
- To Enhance Career Awareness at the Grass-root Level
- To Establish an Institute of Research, Analysis and Training with a focus on Career Awareness and Development.
- To Promote an Action Plan for Enriching the Academic and Career Status of the Under-Prevented Society of the Country

Aliah University – a State University under the Department of Minority Affairs and Madrasah Education, Government of West Bengal – came into existence through the Aliah University Act (Act XXVII of 2007) passed by the West Bengal Legislative Assembly. The Act came into force on 5 April 2008. However, its parent institution – from which it was upgraded to a University – was usually mentioned in various old Government records varying as Calcutta Mohomedan College or Calcutta Madrasah or Aliah Madrasah which was established by the British Governor-General Warren Hastings in 1780 at the request of some Muslim gentlemen of Calcutta. The newly-upgraded University started its glorious journey from the 2008-09 academic session with the hope that there would be a symbiosis of heritage and modernization here and through the participation and co-operation of people irrespective of race, caste, creed, or class, this University would play a leading role in the advancement of higher education especially of the Minorities who have for various historical reasons remained socially and educationally backward.

It may be observed that Aliah Madrasah from its early days imparted teaching in both the traditional subject of theology and the modern sciences, social sciences, and humanities. To keep alive this tradition of teaching, right from the start, Aliah University has offered courses in the traditional Islamic Theology, Islamic Studies, and Arabic along with subjects like English, Bengali, History, Geography, Economics and many other branches of Science (Physics, Chemistry, Mathematics, Statistics, Computer Science) as well as Engineering (Civil, Mechanical, Electrical, Electronics and Electronic Communications, Computer Engineering), Management, Journalism and Mass Communication Studies and Nursing. Keeping in mind the requirements of the employment sector in the 21st century, right from the start, great emphasis has been put on courses in the Sciences, Engineering, Technology and Management so that students from the minority community become eligible and can compete for jobs in various sectors.

About - Student Counselling Committee, Aliah University

The Student Counselling Committee, Aliah University provides confidential academic, psychological, personal, and career counselling to promote students' mental well-being, emotional resilience, and holistic development. It supports students in addressing academic, personal, and career challenges in a safe and supportive environment.

The Committee comprises the Chairperson, Convener, Psychological Counsellors, Career Counsellor, and faculty members. It identifies students requiring additional support, facilitates timely referrals to mental health professionals, and promotes a positive, inclusive, and student-friendly campus environment.

Genesis and antiquity of the workshop

Our previous workshops from 2021 successfully trained 100+ Counsellors from 9 states across North India. The feedback highlighted a critical need for such practice-based training, which combines psychological principles with hands-on counselling techniques. Hosting the next iteration within an academic environment like Aliah University will provide an ideal setting for theoretical depth and practical application, benefiting both our participants and the student fraternity.

Workshop Objectives:

The workshop aims to:

- Enhance competencies in career guidance and counselling among teachers, mentors, and aspiring counsellors.
- Integrate psychological concepts (aptitude, interest, personality) with psychometric tools for effective student profiling.
- Develop skills in communication, competency mapping, self-development, and handling behavioural issues.
- Create a pool of trained career trainers who can replicate this model in their respective communities and schools.
